Transmission Pricing Review: stage 2 consultation paper

Submissions are being sought on a second consultation paper published as part of the transmission pricing review.

The second stage of the review has been concerned with considering submissions to the Transmission Pricing Review, High-Level Options consultation paper issued in October 2009 and undertaking further analysis. The stage 2 consultation paper describes the analysis and outlines options for further consideration. These include:

- options to provide incentives for deferring reliability transmission investment; and
- options for the treatment of HVDC costs.

The paper and supporting appendices are available at:
